Letter from the Vice President of Academic Affairs

Dear Faculty,

The position you hold here at LSCPA is critical to student success. The twin processes of teaching and learning are the most important aspects of the LSCPA mission. You were hired for your teaching talent and for your student-centered approach, and we want to help you be successful in all aspects of your position.

To that end, this Faculty Handbook was developed to serve as a blueprint for the various tasks required of you, in addition to teaching and service. While it doesn’t necessarily address every demand that may be placed on your position, it does address many of the tasks that must be completed on a regular basis. In addition, it provides some context for the many things a faculty member does on a college campus, and it will help make sense of the “alphabet soup” found in higher education.

We hope this handbook will be helpful to you as you go about the business of upholding the College’s mission and values. Your success is mirrored in your students’ success, and we value your many contributions to the institution and the community.

Thank you for making LSCPA a beacon of hope for our community!

Sincerely,

Pamela Millsap

Perkins Grant

Perkins Grant funds reflect the 100-year federal commitment to Career and Technical Education (CTE) by providing federal support for CTE programs. Perkins affords states and local communities the opportunity to implement a vision for CTE that uniquely supports the range of educational needs of students, exploration through career preparation and balances those student needs with the current and emerging needs of the economy.

The Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education Act of 2006 (Perkins IV) is intended to more fully develop the academic knowledge and the technical and employability skills of secondary education students and postsecondary education students who elect to enroll in career and technical education programs and programs of study.

The Strengthening Career and Technical Education for the 21st Century Act (Perkins V) was signed into law by President Trump on July 31, 2018. This bipartisan measure reauthorized the Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education Act of 2006 (Perkins IV) and continued Congress’ commitment in providing nearly $1.3 billion annually for CTE programs for our nation’s youth and adults. Perkins V represents an important opportunity to expand opportunities for every student to explore, choose, and follow CTE programs of study and career pathways to earn credentials of value by:

- Improving alignment to state-identified in-demand industries;
- Placing a stronger emphasis on quality by requiring robust measures of progress;
- Placing a stronger focus on equity by increasing federal funds that states can set aside to assist CTE programs in rural areas and in predominantly low-income areas.

The Perkins Grant is managed by the Dean of Technical Education.

Physical Plant

Texas Success Initiative Assessment (TSIA)

The TSIA Assessment (TSIA) is part of the Texas Success Initiative program designed to help determine if students are ready for college-level coursework in the general areas of English Language Arts and Reading and mathematics. This program helps determine what type of course or intervention best meets the student’s needs to help them become better prepared for college-level coursework. All Texas college students are required to take the TSIA unless the student is determined to be exempt.

Starting January 11, 2021, students take the TSIA2, the second iteration of the Assessment. All TSI scores are valid for a period of 5 years.

A student shall be exempt from taking the TSIA2 if the student has:

- scored a composite score of 23 with a minimum of 19 on the English test shall exempt both English Language Arts and Reading sections of the TSIA2;
- scored a composite score of 23 with a minimum of 19 on the Math test shall exempt the Mathematics section of the TSIA;

Faculty Rights, Roles, and Responsibilities

Academic Freedom

Institutions of higher education exist for the common good. The common good depends upon an uninhibited search for truth and its open expression. Hence, each faculty member must be free to pursue scholarly inquiry and to voice and publish individual conclusions concerning the significance of evidence that the faculty member considers relevant. Each faculty member must be free from the corrosive fear that others, inside or outside the academic community, because their vision may differ, may threaten the faculty member's professional career or the material benefits accruing from it.
Faculty members are entitled to the full protection of their rights under the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States and such further rights as conferred on the faculty member by contractual agreement, as they discuss the subject which they teach in the classroom. Further, the employees of Lamar State College Port Arthur are entitled to the protection of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, which prohibits the institution, as an arm of the state, from depriving a citizen of life, liberty, or property without due process of law.

The AAUP (American Association of University Professors) Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure

Academic Responsibility

The concept of academic freedom must be accompanied by an equally demanding concept of responsibility, which shall be shared by LSCPA administrators and faculty. The fundamental responsibilities of faculty members as teachers and scholars include maintenance of competence in their fields of specialization and the exhibition of such competence in lectures, discussions, or publications. Exercise of professional integrity of faculty members includes recognition that the public will judge their profession and their institution by their statements. Therefore, they should strive to be accurate, exercise appropriate restraint, show respect for the opinions of others, and avoid creating the impression that they speak or act for the institution when they speak or act as private persons.

Advising

Faculty are required to advise for students in their major. Faculty generally see students after their first semester of attendance. In general, faculty should plan to advise 3-5 hours weekly between the first date of registration and the end of the semester. Faculty may be required to advise in the summer if they are Program Coordinators. Departments differ in their advising process so check with your Department Chair for specific information.

Appointments Plus

Appointments Plus is a scheduling software allowing students and advisors to actively book and manage their appointment and advising sessions at convenient times for students.

For more information and directions for using contact the Advising Office.

Advisory Committees

Institutions must establish an industry-based advisory committee for each workforce education program (each AAS degree or Career Technical Education certificate).

The role of an advisory committee is to:

1. help a college document the need for a workforce education program and
2. ensure the program has adequate resources and a well-designed curriculum to provide students with the knowledge, skills, and abilities essential for employment.

The advisory committee is one of the means of ensuring meaningful business and industry participation in program creation and revision. Advisory committees perform the following functions:

1. evaluating the goals and objectives of the program curriculum;
2. establishing workplace competencies for the program occupation(s);
3. suggesting program revisions as needed;
4. evaluating the adequacy of existing college facilities and equipment;
5. advising college personnel on the selection and acquisition of new equipment;
6. identifying local business and industry leaders who will provide students with external learning experiences, employment, and placement opportunities;
7. assisting in the professional development of the faculty;
8. assisting in promoting and publicizing the program to the community and to business and industry; and
9. representing the needs of students from special populations.

All meetings of an advisory committee must be recorded in official minutes. Minutes must be maintained by the institution and made available to Coordinating Board staff upon request.

Blackboard

Blackboard is a Learning Management System. This system provides a ‘shell’ for each course taught by faculty, face to face or online. Within the course shell, faculty can upload information in the following categories: Course content, calendars, learning modules, assessments, assignments, profile, gradebook, and media library.

Faculty should use Blackboard for all their courses. At a minimum, the syllabus, office hours, and gradebook should be set up. As part of Emergency Operations, faculty should be prepared to switch to an online format immediately should an emergency occur that results in closure of the campus. For this reason, it is strongly suggested faculty use Blackboard to post classroom information, handouts, and assignments.

The Office of Online Learning has created several ‘How-To’ videos for faculty.

For More Information: MyLSCPA → Blackboard → Community → Online Learning Resources

Class Roster

Students must attend classes and sections as listed on the official class roll. Student names who do not appear on the class roll cannot attend classes or laboratories. Names of students auditing courses appear on the official class roll.
The instructor is responsible for correcting class rolls. For the first two weeks of classes, faculty are encouraged to check Banner rosters in each class period for the addition and deletion of students.

Faculty receive Preliminary, 1st Day, and 4th day class rosters. These are sent for the instructors’ use and do not have to be returned to the Registrar.

Faculty receive Official Class Rosters on the 12th Class have to be returned to the Registrar. These are sent for the instructors’ use and do not have to be returned to the Registrar before the 12th Class Day.

Students who do not appear on the roster are not allowed to attend the class. Any discrepancies should be emailed to the Registrar before the 12th Class Day.

Blackboard does not update the rosters like Banner does. Students may still appear on the roster for Blackboard who are not in Banner. Notify the Distance Education Director with those concerns.

Clear English Requirements

House Bill 638, as enacted by the 71st Legislature of the State of Texas (VTCA Education Code, Section 51.917) requires that each public institution of higher education will ensure that all courses (with the exception of foreign languages) will be clearly taught in the English language.

For More Information: Policy and Procedure Manual, 2.8 Clear English Requirement

Collegiality

Members of the college community should contribute to the creation of a collegial culture. As colleagues, all faculty have obligations derived from common membership in the community of scholars. Faculty do not discriminate against or harass colleagues. They respect and defend the free inquiry of associates, even when it leads to findings and conclusions different from their own. Faculty accept their share of faculty responsibilities for the governance of the institution (drawn from AAUP Statement on Professional Ethics, 1966, Revised 1987, 2009).

Faculty members are expected to:

- Collaborate with faculty, staff, and stakeholders from the College and the community to create, preserve, and enhance important partnerships.
- Provide support for adjunct and full-time colleagues in the form of consultation and cooperation; work as effective team members, when required.

Committees include:

- Nominating Committee for “Teaching Excellence Awards”
- Promotion Committee
- Tenure Committee
- Student-Faculty Relations Committee
- Faculty Senate Executive Committee
- Hiring Committees in conjunction with Chairs, VP, and other staff

Core Curriculum

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (Coordinating Board), with the assistance of its Undergraduate Education Advisory Committee (UEAC), designed a 42-semester credit hour (SCH) core curriculum for all undergraduate students in Texas public higher education institutions. The new core curriculum was implemented state-wide in fall 2014. Institutions are able to update the Core Curriculum annually. Core curriculum updates are completed by the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

The purpose of the core curriculum is to ensure that undergraduate students develop the essential knowledge and skills they need in order to be successful in college, in a career, in their communities, and in life. The Core Curriculum facilitates the transfer of lower-division courses among public colleges, universities, and health-related institutions throughout the state.

The Core Curriculum is divided into Component Areas with a specified number of Semester Credit Hours required for each Component Area:

Course Design

Courses are designed by the faculty teaching the course. The method of course design called Backward Design is used to set goals for the course before choosing the instructional methods and forms of assessment. There are three stages to Backward Design:

1. Identify the results desired.
2. Determine acceptable levels of evidence that support the desired results occurred.
3. Design activities to make the desired results happen.

Faculty should begin by identifying the results desired for the course by referring to the Academic Course Guide Manual (ACGM) for academic courses, or Workforce Education Course Manual (WECM) for technical courses. The ACGM and WECM provide descriptions and objectives or learning outcomes for the course inventory. Both the ACGM and WECM are maintained by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board. Faculty may add to the Learning Outcomes but may not subtract from them.
In addition to the course objectives or learning outcomes, faculty should also include the appropriate Core Objectives (Academic Courses) or Program Objectives/Outcomes (Technical Courses).

Once the end goal is established, assignments, evaluations, assessments, and exams can be created along with lectures and course outlines. The textbook selection should not dictate the flow of the course, rather it should enhance it.

Credit by Exam

Credit by Examination is designed to allow students, who have completed formal or informal training in topics presented at the rigor of a college level curriculum, to challenge a course by completing a comprehensive examination. Credit is awarded to students who pass an advanced standing examination with a ‘C’ or better. Individual departments may have program specific standards. Faculty may be asked to prepare and administer the Credit by Exam.

For More Information: Policy and Procedure Manual, 7.11 Credit by Examination

Developmental Education

Students who do not meet the minimum TSIA2 scores or are not exempt from other tests or circumstances are required to participate in Developmental Courses. Each area, Mathematics and English Language Arts and Reading, offers a developmental course, plus NCBO courses designed as a co-requisite with the College level gateway course.

NCBO Non-Course Competency Based option

Interventions using learning approaches designed to address a student’s identified weaknesses and effectively and efficiently prepare the student for college-level work. These interventions may be overseen by an instructor of record, must not fit traditional course frameworks, and cannot include advising or learning support activities already connected to a traditional course. Interventions may include, but are not limited to, tutoring, supplemental instruction, or labs.

House Bill 2223

House Bill 2223, signed in 2017, was designed to accelerate underprepared students' persistence and successful completion of developmental education and the gateway college-level course. HB 2223 requires a percentage of underprepared students enrolled in developmental education be reported as enrolled in a corequisite model. The Corequisite model allows the student to enroll in the college-level course but requires a co-enrollment in a developmental education course or intervention. This intervention is designed to support the student’s successful completion of the college-level course.

For More Information: HB2223 Implementation, HECB TSI and Developmental Education

DUO Security

LSCPA has implemented Duo Security, a two-factor authentication feature which adds a second layer of security when logging into applications. By verifying your identity using a second factor (e.g., phone or other mobile device), you prevent anyone but you logging into your LSCPA account even if they gain access to your password.

For More Information: 2-Factor Authentication with Duo Security

Examinations

Effective classroom teaching requires the use of formative and summative assessment. Students should be made aware of the examination schedule for the semester by the second week of classes in Fall and Spring Semesters, or by the second day of a summer/mini term.

Evaluation

Annual Faculty Review

Faculty members are required to complete the F2.08 Annual Faculty Review, a self-evaluation submitted to the Department Chair, the Dean of Technical Programs, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Faculty are evaluated for professional duties and activities including classroom instruction, professional development, participation in department and campus-wide affairs, service to the college, and the community.

The Department Chair or Dean may use the Annual Faculty Review to support recommendations concerning promotion, tenure, and salary administration.

For More Information: Human Resources Performance Appraisal Forms

Course Surveys

During each long semester, faculty members (full-time and part-time) will provide students with an opportunity to evaluate faculty performance. To ensure that final grades are not biased by comments made on evaluations, another faculty or staff member will monitor the evaluation process. The instructor being evaluated shall not be present in the classroom when students are completing the evaluation.

The student evaluations of faculty are to be used as a means for improving teaching and may also be used to document teaching effectiveness in applications for tenure and promotion. Results of course surveys may also be submitted as part of the annual faculty evaluation process.

Classroom Observation

During an Academic Calendar year, each full-time faculty will be observed in the classroom by the Department Chair or designee. Adjunct faculty will be observed each semester by the Department Chair, tenured faculty of the subject area, or other designees.

For More Information: Appendix F of Faculty Handbook, Classroom Observation Form.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

Access to educational records directly related to a student will not be granted unless disclosure of the type of record is authorized to be disclosed under the provision of the law. The types, locations, and names of custodians of educational records maintained by LSCPA are available from the Registrar. Access to records by persons other than the student will be limited to those persons and agencies specified in the statute.

For More Information: LSCPA’s FERPA Statement, Frequently Asked Questions about FERPA

Grades/Grading

Standard Grading

LSCPA recommends the following grading scale (A, B, C, D, F). Grade points are earned per grade per semester credit hour.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Range</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Grade Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>90-100</td>
<td>Excellent</td>

<td>Good</td>
<td>3</td>

<td>60-69</td>
<td>Passing*</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>0-59</td>
<td>Failing</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*Some courses/programs require a C or higher grade to be passing.
Courses in Developmental Courses receive a two-letter grade. The first is D for Developmental and the second letter is the course grade (DA = an A in the course, DC = a C in the course).

NCBO (Non-Course Based Options) courses may be graded with a S (Satisfactory) or U (Unsatisfactory).

Students who drop a course or withdraw from the college will have a Q or W in Banner. Students are required to initiate the drop or withdrawal process. Students who stop attending class and earn a failing grade will receive an F. The last date of attendance must be noted when posting grades of F.

Grade Inflation

In order to ensure that students transferring to four-year universities are prepared, grade inflation is discouraged.

Incomplete Grades

An 'Incomplete' (marked by an I) is a conditional grade used to indicate that the student has not completed the course. It is the responsibility of the student to plan with the instructor to submit required work and be assigned a grade.

A grade of Incomplete should only be given in extreme and extenuating circumstances, and only for students who lack one or two assignments to complete the semester.

Faculty must complete the Incomplete Grade Contract (Appendix F: Forms), send it to the student who will sign and send it back to the faculty. Faculty sign and forward the contract to their Department Chair for approval.

Students with a grade of ‘incomplete’ must complete course requirements within two months after the last class day unless stated differently in the Contract. If course requirements are not completed by the deadline, the grade of ‘I’ will be changed to an ‘F’.

Grade Changes

After grades have been entered, it is sometimes necessary to change a student’s grade because of an instructor error in computing grades or work being submitted to satisfy the Incomplete Grade Contract. Faculty will complete and sign the Grade Change Form (Appendix F) and submit it to their Department Chair for approval. The Department Chair will submit the form to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The VPAA forwards the Grade Change Form to the Registrar’s office.

In most circumstances, grades remain as recorded and can be changed only by the instructor. In the event the instructor is no longer employed, the Department Chair and Dean have the authority to change grades, with a written explanation for the change placed in the college’s official files.

Grades may be changed by the Department Chair and/or Dean when the Student-Faculty Relations Committee, as a result of the appellate process, determines that a faculty member has failed to implement a previously announced grade policy.

All grades and grading methods are subject to review by the Dean and/or Department Chair when a student requests a review of a specific grade. The Dean and Department Chair must approve any change in grade requested by an instructor after final semester grades are recorded.

Graduation

Graduations ceremonies are held in December and May. All full-time faculty are expected to take part in the graduation exercises and dressed in the appropriate academic attire. Faculty who do not have academic attire are asked to purchase or rent the appropriate cap, gown, stole, or hood.

Guest Lecturers

Guest lecturers are often brought into classes to provide students with additional insight and expertise in a subject area. Instructors are encouraged to get the speaker to visit without paying a fee. If a speaker requires payment, that must be arranged before confirming the speaker’s visit, and only with approval from the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

House Bill 2504

During the 2009 legislative session, the Texas Legislature passed legislation designated HB 2504 that requires public institutions of higher learning make available to the public certain information concerning undergraduate classroom courses offered for credit.

The items posted to the LSCPA website include each faculty member’s Curriculum Vitae, Syllabus, and Student Course Evaluations.

Information must be accessible from the LSCPA homepage by three links (clicks), searchable by keywords and phrases, and accessible to the public without requiring registration or a user name/password or other identification.

When the faculty member speaks or writes as a citizen, the faculty member should be free from institutional censorship or discipline; but the faculty member’s special position in the community imposes special obligations. As a person of learning and a faculty member of a state-funded educational institution, the faculty member should remember that the public may judge his or her profession and Lamar State College Port Arthur by his or her utterance. Hence, the faculty member should at all times be accurate, exercise appropriate restraint, and should show respect for the opinion of others.

Academic Honesty
The college expects all students to engage in all academic pursuits in a manner that is above reproach. Students are expected to maintain complete honesty and integrity in the academic experiences both in and out of the classroom. Any student found guilty of dishonesty in any phase of academic work will be subject to disciplinary action.

Lamar State College Port Arthur and its official representatives, acting following the below-mentioned Academic Penalties, may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of any form of academic dishonesty including, but not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work which is to be submitted, plagiarism, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials.

Instructors should take the necessary precautions, including careful administering and monitoring of examinations, to prevent acts of scholastic dishonesty. The instructor has the responsibility for making an initial determination of scholastic dishonesty. All students and faculty share the responsibility for ethical conduct by reporting any untoward incidents in or out of the classroom. All offenses must be reported to the Department Chair. Academic Penalties

The procedures for administering an academic penalty for dishonesty differ from ordinary student discipline cases.
Texas State University System and college policies permit academic dishonesty cases to be first considered and reviewed by the faculty member. If, after reviewing the case, the faculty member determines that the student is guilty of the charge, the faculty member may assess an examination or resubmit all or part of academic work.
1. Requiring a student to retake all or part of an examination or academic work in question.
3. Assigning a grade of "zero" to the entire examination or academic work in question.
4. Assigning a grade of "F" for the course. In the case of a student's first offense the decision to fail the student for cheating should be one shared between the instructor and the Department Chair before notifying the student. In the case of a student with repeated violations, the faculty member may make this decision without consulting with the Department Chair, but must immediately notify the Department Chair of the action taken and the circumstances that prompted it.

The procedures for assigning an academic penalty has been completed, and in particularly severe cases of academic dishonesty including but not limited to flagrant repeated violations, the Vice President for Academic Affairs may refer the matter to the Dean of Student Services for any additional discipline that may be appropriate. The process for considering disciplinary action shall not delay the consideration or implementation of an academic penalty.

Students with Special Needs

As an institution of higher education committed to equal access by all citizens, Lamar State College Port Arthur believes in the necessity of providing accommodations and services to qualified students. Office for Disability Services

Accommodations are not intended to lower academic standards or impede a faculty member's academic freedom.

Faculty may be asked to provide an academic accommodation for a student with a disability. Students who receive accommodation for their courses must present a copy of the accommodation prepared by the Office of Disability Services. Faculty are required to meet the accommodation of the student. Faculty can talk with the student if they have questions regarding the implementation or specifics of the accommodation but may professional growth, issues of work-life balance, finding new challenges, fighting burnout, and ways to sustain the joy of teaching.

Individualized Professional Development for Faculty

Faculty members have the opportunity to pursue professional development specific to their interests and teaching field. When travel or institutional funds are required, the faculty member must seek approval in advance. Individualized professional development should relate to the annual performance evaluation in several ways: 1) if there are deficits noted on the annual evaluation, the faculty member should work with the Department Chair to identify learning opportunities which will help address the deficit; 2) the faculty member should always be striving to grow as a faculty member and should identify annual goals which may be supported by professional development activities.

Professional Development Sponsored by the VPAA’s Office

Ongoing professional development for faculty is essential in order to maintain a teaching force that is current, not only in their teaching fields but also in pedagogical methods. The VPAA’s office sponsors professional development opportunities that may vary from year to year, always with the intention of growing faculty expertise in ways to most effectively serve our student body. These professional development opportunities may take the form of guest speakers, Faculty Development Day workshops, and/or video series offering unlimited access to faculty for a period of time (such as Magna Seminars). Faculty Senate officers, the Department Chairs, and the Dean of Technical Programs offer input to the VPAA with regard to what kind of opportunities the faculty need and/or wish to pursue.

Schedule Building

LSCPA provides a variety of courses offered during the day, afternoon, evening, and online. Students are able to choose from face-to-face courses, online courses, hybrid courses, synchronous online courses, dual credit/ECHS courses, and courses offered at the correctional facilities. Schedule building considers the needs of the students, institution, and availability of facilities. Department Chairs work with faculty to create a final schedule based on those three factors.

Schedules must be approved by the Dean and/or Vice President for Academic Affairs before being published and posted on the website.

not ask the student to disclose their disability. Faculty must also practice discretion with the implementation of the accommodations and communication with the student. Planning curriculum using the concept of Universal Design for Learning may improve the implementation of student accommodations.

Faculty members shall include a statement in each syllabus inviting students with special needs who do not have accommodations in place, to make an appointment with the Special Populations Coordinator to discuss their special situations.

Faculty are not required to provide accommodations for students without the official accommodation letter.

Professional Development

Seminar Series for New Faculty

LSCPA holds a seminar series for new faculty in order to provide an ongoing opportunity for new LSCPA faculty to ask questions, share ideas, and gain support for their instructional professional growth. The seminar series provides a forum for instruction-specific professional development and for the development of an interdisciplinary cohort of new faculty, covering topics to include LSCPA specific faculty responsibilities, pedagogical methods, instructional assessment, classroom management, goal setting, and self-evaluation.

This seminar series is hosted by the Vice President for Academic Affairs (VPAA) or the VPAA’s delegate(s). It is mandatory for new faculty and meets monthly August through May.

The Joy Project: A Seminar Series for Mid-Career Faculty Members

The Joy Project is a seminar series for mid-career faculty, a discussion-based experience with supplemental readings. The series is intended to provide support for mid-career faculty who wish to explore avenues for continued professional growth, issues of work-life balance, finding new challenges, fighting burnout, and ways to sustain the joy of teaching. Facilitated by the Vice President for Academic Affairs (VPAA) or the VPAA’s delegate(s), this seminar meets monthly September – May. Participation is voluntary, but members of the seminar class must commit to attending for the full academic year.

Background: Faculty members typically pursue a career in teaching because they find joy in broadening the horizons of their students, and they are passionate about the teaching/learning process. When faculty are new, they tend to be very busy establishing their teaching styles and completing the requirements to earn tenure or promotion. Institutional resources are dedicated to the hiring and evaluation of these young faculty as they make their way up the tenure or promotion ladder.

But what happens after tenure is granted and/or they have established themselves as a professional educator? What happens when the teaching process is no longer a fresh challenge? What happens after you have assumed various institutional responsibilities (committee work, club sponsorship, etc.) that compete for time and attention, challenging the quest to maintain balance in your life and excellence in the classroom? How is joy sustained?

Textbooks

The selection of textbooks and other course materials is the responsibility of full-time faculty with approval from the Department Chair and in compliance with the deadlines set by the college bookstore and respective departments.

As stated in the syllabus template, a student attending Lamar State College Port Arthur is not required to purchase a textbook from the college affiliated bookstore. The same textbook may also be available from an independent retailer, including online retailers.

Faculty are encouraged to seek lower-cost options for students. Open Educational Resources (OER) and the Seahawk Book Bundle are examples of less expensive alternatives to the traditional purchasing of textbooks.

Open Educational Resources (OER)

Open Educational Resources (OER) are materials for teaching and learning are either part of public domain or are released under a license allowing them to be freely used, change, or shared with others.

Faculty are encouraged to seek less expensive alternatives than traditional textbooks, including OER, when planning their courses. Faculty may also create OER with direction from their Department Chair, Dean, and Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Some examples of OER publishers include:

- Khan Academy  https://www.khanacademy.org/
- Open Stax  https://cnx.org/
- Open Text Library  https://open.umn.edu/opentextbooks/
- Open Course Library  http://opencourselibrary.org/

Seahawk Book Bundle

The Seahawk Book Bundle is a rental program that allows students to receive textbooks for all classes at a standard rate of $25 per semester credit hour. If a student, for example, is registered for ten (10) SCH, the cost of textbooks is $250. The cost can be paid by financial aid or be paid by the student. If students enroll in a payment plan, this charge will be included in the payment plan calculations. Supplies are not included in this program and will need to be purchased separately.

Books are picked up or delivered to the student's address on file before the first day of class and must be returned during the week of final exams. However, students may also permanently purchase the textbooks at the end of each semester.

Students are automatically enrolled in the Seahawk Book Bundle at the time of registration, however, students have the option to 'opt-out' of Seahawk Book Bundle before the 12th class day. Students who opt-out of the Seahawk Book Bundle program will be responsible for purchasing all required course materials.

Support Services/Information Regarding Students

Adds, Drops, Withdrawals

Students registering for courses after classes begin will be added to the roster and should then appear on subsequent class rolls and the official twelfth class day roster. The addition of courses to a student's schedule after the official last day to register must be approved by the Instructor, then Chair of the department offering the course. A student may drop a course or withdraw from the college without penalty during the early weeks of the semester.

The last date for dropping or withdrawing without penalty is published in the official Catalog. For drops or withdrawals after this penalty-free period, grades are recorded as Q, W, or F indicating that the student was passing or failing at the time of the drop or withdrawal. A grade of Q or W may not be assigned unless an official drop or withdrawal has been processed through the Office of the Registrar.

The final date to drop a course or withdraw from the college is published in the official Catalog.

Attendance, Students

Regular and punctual class attendance is important to the attainment of the educational objectives of the college. Faculty will formulate an attendance policy consistent with departmental policies, but suited to the needs of the particular course. Faculty are required to take attendance daily or to monitor online course activity.

The instructor's policy is to be explained in detail to the class at the beginning of the semester, posted in the syllabus for each course, and is to be enforced in a consistent and uniform manner. In individual cases, the instructor is encouraged to consult with the Department Chair. However, determination of whether an absence is excused or approved is the responsibility of the instructor. There are exceptions in the case of an approved absence for a college sponsored activity or religious holy day.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

To receive funds administered by the Student Financial Aid Office at Lamar State College Port Arthur, students must be making measurable progress toward the completion of an eligible degree or certificate. Federal regulations require that the student’s entire academic record be evaluated for Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP), regardless of whether the student has previously received financial aid.

For More Information: Student Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy

Student Grievances, Complaints, and Suggestions

Lamar State College Port Arthur has established procedures for the resolution of student grievances in regard to academic issues in a prompt and equitable manner. Details of procedure for students is referenced in the Student Handbook.

Students may wish to voice a complaint or make suggestions about a class, department, or policy that falls outside of ordinary grievance procedures (i.e. catalog issues, class scheduling, departmental policies, textbook selection). The remarks are often addressed to faculty members. When hearing these concerns, if possible, provide a careful explanation. If an instructor does not have an explanation or does not feel comfortable addressing the situation, the student can be directed to speak to the Program Coordinator (if applicable) or the appropriate Department Chair.

SACSCOC Standards

In relation to Standard 8.2, SACSCOC states, “Student outcomes—both within the classroom and outside of the classroom—are the heart of the higher education experience. Effective institutions focus on the design and improvement of educational experiences to enhance student learning and support appropriate student outcomes for its educational programs and related academic and student services that support student success. To meet the goals of educational programs, an institution is always asking itself whether it has met those goals and how it can become even better.”

The institution identifies expected outcomes, assesses the extent to which it achieves these outcomes, and provides evidence of seeking improvement based on analysis of the results in the areas below:

a. Student learning outcomes for each of its educational programs.
   (Student outcomes: educational programs)

b. Student learning outcomes for collegiate-level general education competencies of its undergraduate degree programs.
   (Student outcomes: general education)

c. Academic and student services that support student success.
   (Student outcomes: academic and student services)

Based on this standard of accreditation, Lamar State College Port Arthur conducts assessment each semester in both the Core Curriculum and Technical Education programs.

Six Steps of LSCPA Annual Planning & Assessment

This Assessment & Planning cycle appears to start in September of each year, but as a continuously flowing ongoing process, there isn’t a beginning-end date.

Step 1 Assessment Planning: In September of each academic year, each department chair and program/course faculty align the related degree plan(s) and the designated student learning outcomes with the related courses (the scheduled fall term and anticipated spring term of the academic year). The plan should reflect the expansive nature of the assessment process where all student learning outcomes are assessed in all modes of delivery and in all locations.

Step 2 Fall Assessment: The Assessment Plan is implemented in the fall term, with artifacts collected and submitted by mid-December.

Step 3 Spring Assessment: The Annual Assessment Plan continues in the spring term, with artifacts collected and submitted by mid-May.

Step 4 Annual Assessment Reports: The Office of Institutional Research collects and analyzes all artifacts to create the Annual Assessment Report for each program/course.

Step 5 Analysis and Results: The OIE distributes the completed Annual Assessment Reports, with Results detailed at course & program levels, with outcomes measured against institutional benchmarks and goals.

Step 6 Use of Results Action Plans: Department Chairs and Program-Course faculty review Results, and develop action plans that reflect the continuous efforts of improvement (curriculum, delivery actions that relate to specific learning outcomes).

Purpose of Assessment

As Linda Suskie writes in Assessing Student Learning, “there are at least three purposes of assessment. Its fundamental purpose is giving students the best possible education. Assessment accomplishes this by giving faculty and staff feedback on what is and isn't working and insight into changes that might help students learn and succeed even more effectively.

“The second purpose of assessment is stewardship. All colleges run on other people’s money, including tuition and fees paid by students and their families, government funds paid by taxpayers, and scholarships paid by donors. All these people deserve assurance that your college will be a wise steward of their resources, spending those resources prudently, effectively, and judiciously. Stewardship includes using good-quality evidence of student learning to help inform decisions on how those resources are spent, including how everyone spends their time. Does service learning really help develop students’ commitment to a life of service? Does the gen ed curriculum really help improve students’ critical thinking skills? Does the math requirement really help students analyze data? And are the improvements big enough to warrant the time and effort faculty and staff put into developing and delivering these learning experiences?

“The third purpose of assessment is accountability: assuring your stakeholders of the effectiveness of your college, program, service, or initiative. Stakeholders include current and prospective students and their families, employers, government policy makers, alumni, taxpayers, governing board members...and, yes, accreditors." SACSCOC and state agencies like the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (HECB) requires this accountability, which includes sharing both successes and steps being taken to make appropriate, evidence-based improvements.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes are the program goals that describe what a student will gain from the learning experience. Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) describe the specific, measurable knowledge, values, and skills that students will be able to demonstrate upon completing the academic/technical program using precise language focused on the student. Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs) are content-knowledge focused skills that students have achieved upon successful completion of a course.

General Education Course Outcomes are found in the Academic Course Guide Manual (ACGM), and Workforce Course Outcomes are found in the Technical Education Course Manual (WECM). Program Student Learning Outcomes (PSLO) for General Education are referred to as the HECB’s Texas Common Core (TCC) Objectives: Critical Thinking Skills, Communication Skills, Empirical and Quantitative Skills, Teamwork Skills, Social Responsibility Skills, and Personal Responsibility Skills. PSLOs for each technical program are developed by the institution, with faculty and advisory committee input.

Each general education course is clustered into one of eight foundational component areas: Communication; Mathematics; Life & Physical Sciences; Language, Philosophy, and Culture; Creative Arts; American History; Government/Political Science; Social and Behavioral Sciences. Each foundational component area is aligned with three or more Core Objectives. Technical PSLOs are clustered by program content and aligned to each course in the program.

Core/Academic Curriculum Assessment

The Core Curriculum is the foundation for all academic degrees and represents the majority of academic coursework offered. The Core Curriculum is divided into nine (9) areas with coursework totaling forty-two (42) semester credit hours (SCH). The Component Areas serve as a common core for the State.

For assessment, the state has provided six (6) specific objectives. All courses are to assess Critical Thinking and Communication. Each category then is responsible for assessing 1-2 additional objectives, depending on the subject matter. The other objectives cover Empirical and Quantitative, Teamwork, Social Responsibility, and Personal Responsibility.

Each faculty member teaching a Core Curriculum class completes a Core Curriculum Assignment (see next page) that measures all of the objectives for that course. This assignment is administered to every student, in every section, and in every semester.

A randomized sample from each subject is completed and each faculty determines which artifacts are scored for assessment. Using the Rubrics created by LSCPA, Faculty complete the Artifact Workbook and submit it to the Office of Institutional Effectiveness. Artifacts, with all names redacted, are scanned and uploaded to Blackboard via the Community – Core Curriculum page.

I. Title of Assignment:

II. Which Program Student Learning Outcomes (PSLO) does this assignment cover?

List each of the PSLO’s the Assignment covers. Copy/Paste from online document Academic Core PSLO’s with Rubrics: http://www.lamarpa.edu/General/Institutional-Effectiveness/Institutional-Effectiveness/Campus-Assessment

For example:

> Critical Thinking Skills- Uses creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information.

III. Description of the Assignment (as it appears to students):

The description should include the directions for students, a detailed explanation of each step of the assignment, and the percentage amount of the assignment. The more detail, the better. Write the directions so it can be copied/pasted in a document and given to students.

IV. Artifacts to be collected:

List each artifact and type of artifact collected from the steps of this assignment. Different ‘pieces’ of the assignment may reflect separate PSLO’s. Use the examples of TYPE of ARTIFACT from the artifact submission form (Embedded Questions, Performance/Project/Essay, Indirect Measures, or Assignment (not scored with a rubric) for help with this. Then list which PSLO that specific artifact supports.
